

BALLAST TANKS & PONTOONS

Overview

Polyethylene is a material which ideal suits applications such as on board shipping vessel Water Ballast holding tanks. Within PE tanks water a can be filtered and treated to ensure no onward biological or environmental contamination at point of discharge.

Tanks can be design and fabricated to fit within all types of vessels. Likewise due to its robust design and neutral buoyancy PE is an ideal material for use as pontoons and floatation pods. Designs can be structure to meet client requirements.

